W. L. DOUGLAS
THE BEST $3.50 SHOES

Men in every walk of life, in all professions and trades, the gentleman of leisure and the workman—all wear W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes because they are the best.

To any one who can show that a W. L. Douglas shoe does not make and sell more than $3.50
shoes than any other manufacturer.

THE REASON W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are worn by more men in all walks of life than any other make, is because of their excellent style, easy fitting and superior wearing qualities. The selection of the leathers and other materials for each part of the shoe, and every detail of the making is looked after by the most complete organization of superintendents, foremen and skilled shoemakers, who receive the highest wages paid in the shoe industry, and whose workmanship cannot be excelled.

If I could take you into my large factory at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other $3.50 shoe.

W. L. DOUGLAS $4.00 GILT EDGE SHOE Cannot Be Equalled at Any Price.

W. L. DOUGLAS BOYS' SHOES $1.75 AND $2.00. JUST THE SAME AS MY MEN'S $3.50 SHOES, THE SAME LEATHERS, FOR $1.75 AND $2.00.

CAUTION. The genuine have W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom. Take No Substitute. When in need of shoes, if not convenient to go to W. L. Douglas store, ask your dealer for W. L. Douglas shoes. If he cannot supply you, send direct to factory. Shoes mailed everywhere. Illustrated Catalog Free.

DEAD ON STAIRS OF HER HOUSE

MRS. CESARO VIGIL PROBABLY KILLED BY A FALL.

Severe Abrasion on the Back of Her Neck and a Fractured Skull—Nothing in the House Disturbed—Police Say Accident, but Coroner Harburger Says Murder.

Mrs. Cesaro Vigil, of middle age and reputed to be wealthy, was found dead yesterday morning half way down the stairs leading from the first floor to the basement of her home at 127 West 138th street. She was clad only in her night dress. From a severe abrasion on the back of her head blood had flowed freely.

Mrs. Vigil's body was discovered by Agnes Gibson, a negro maid who had been in her employ a week and whose room was on the floor above the bedroom occupied by the dead woman. The maid promptly notified the police. Dr. Fisher, who was summoned from the Harlem Hospital, said that Mrs. Vigil had probably died of a fractured skull and that death had occurred two or three hours before the discovery of the body.

Coroner Harburger and Deputy Police Commissioner Arthur Woods with a squad of detectives from Headquarters made an investigation of the premises. Mrs. Vigil, who was the wife of a wealthy Cuban business man, said to be interested in the importation of woods for the manufacture of piano cases, lived in an elaborately furnished home. The tapestries, silver, glassware and brass were such as persons of discriminating taste might collect. All of these things the detectives found to be untouched. Not a drawer was opened nor a lock found pried. There were no signs of intruders save the presence of many burnt matches lying on the stairs near where the body of Mrs. Vigil was found. All of the entrances to the house were locked and there were no jimmy marks under any of the windows.

When the detectives examined the colored maid she said that when she went down to the kitchen after finding the body of her mistress she discovered that both coals of the gas fixture were open partly, but that the gas had not escaped in sufficient quantity to fill the room. She had not heard any noise during the night, and she added that since Mrs. Vigil was a woman of frail health she rarely attempted to walk far without assistance.

Because of the absence of any signs of burglars and of the position of Mrs. Vigil's body and the position of the wounds on her head the detectives decided that her death was the result of accident. She may have smothered the gas, they said, and in attempting to light her way down the stairs to the basement with matches missed her footing and fell upon her head.

Coroner Harburger was not entirely convinced of the police theory. He ordered his physician to make an autopsy on the body, which he had removed to the morgue. The coroner also said that until he should learn what the coroner's physician said about the cause of the blow on the back of the woman's head he would believe that a murder had been done.

The police attempted yesterday to get word of Mrs. Vigil's death to her husband, who is believed to be in Cuba.

RECEIVER FOR MAISON DELENNE.

The Proprietor in Bankruptcy, but the Business Goes On.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday against Ferdinand Delenne, proprietor of the Maison Delenne, a hotel and restaurant at 41 to 45 West Sixteenth street and running through to 50 and 54 West Seventeenth street.

The three creditors named in the petition, who have claims of $300, $80 and $75 respectively, alleged that preferential payments aggregating $1,988 had been made while Delenne was insolvent.

Delenne's liabilities were put at $35,000 and his assets $20,000, counting the leases of the six houses which he controls. Delenne kept a boarding house for ten years and in 1902 opened a restaurant at 43 West Sixteenth street, after which he acquired five other houses. The rental of the houses is said to be $13,000 a year.

Lawrence L. Driggs, who was appointed receiver, said last night that while Mr. Delenne's creditors were all friendly they were compelled because of the tightness of money to bring the bankruptcy proceedings. He said that he would conduct the business until the creditors met, as the receipts were more than paying the running expenses. He said he thought he could tide the restaurant over its financial difficulties.

LONGUE POINTE CHURCH GONE.

Structure 178 Years Old on Banks of St. Lawrence Destroyed by Fire.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Nov. 8.—The Longue Pointe Parish Church, on the banks of the St. Lawrence a few miles below this city, one of the oldest historical structures on the continent, was last night destroyed by fire.

Up to yesterday the church, built of graystone, stood exactly as it did when it left the masons' hands in 1729. With the church building, which was visited by thousands of people every year, was burned the massive silver communion service and vestments sent from France the year the church was completed. The vestments were made in the days of Louis I. and were worth thousands of dollars and cannot of course be replaced.

The church, irrespective of the historic associations, was worth $50,000.

LABOR TEST ON CITY JOBS.

Metz Defendant With the Contractor in an Agreed Case.

It was agreed yesterday between Comptroller Metz and a committee representing the Brotherhood of Carpenters, which some time ago submitted to him a list of forty contractors alleged to be violating the eight hour and prevailing rate of wages law in the erection of public school buildings and other public work, that a test case is to be brought against one of the contractors, whose pay is to be withheld pending the determination of the case.

George J. Bohlen is the complainant in the case and the Comptroller is made a joint defendant with the contractor. An agreed case will be taken directly to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in order to lose no time in case an appeal is taken to the highest court.
